MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENT.

Prof. Kevinski and the Pupils of the Girls The high school building was filled last night with a very large audience, consisting of school directors and patrons of the public schools, who had assembled to enjoy a musical entertainment given under direction of Musical Instructor Kevinski, by the pupils of the girls' secondary school, assisted by four boys of Mr. Herr's second ary school. To say the entertainment was a good one, and creditable alike to the instructor and the pupils is but small praise, and yet this is about all we can say owing to the crowded condition of our columns. The performers numbered about school room. Following is the programme:

Chorus—"Morning Sail." combined schools. Chorus—"Welcome to Spring," Miss Brulaker's school. Solo—"Serenade to Ida," Miss Laura Ger-them in his usual admirable style. THE WINOWER CASE.

I arther Evidence Before the Coroner. A second session of the jury empanneled to inquire into the cause of the death of Charles Winower, whose dead body was found in the Conestoga creek at the railroad bridge on Thursday afternoon, was held at Captain Schuh's hotel last evening. Following is the purport of the evidence to California which set in during 1849

Chas, Gable testified that he was with the deceased on Thursday morning between 8 and 9 o'clock, at Martin Uhrich's the saloon.

Philip Smith, bartender, testified that he saw deceased at the saloon between 8 finally settled in Lititz, this county, some and 9 o'clock on Thursday morning in company of Walter Samson, who took a glass of beer with him.

Walter Samsom testified that he was with Winower in Uhrich's saloon, not on Thursday but on Tuesday morning.

John Eshleman testified that he saw Winower in town on Wednesday night. Dr. Compton testified that the body of Winower must have been in the water at least two days.

John Griel testified that he was fishing under the bridge from 7 o'clock on Thursday morning until the body was found, and that it could not have been thrown or fallen into the creek during that time without his seeing it.

At the close of this testimony the jury adjourned to reassemble at Capt, Schuh's on Monday evening and take further testi-

Jerry Vondersmith, who will be examined before the coroner's jury on Monday evening, informs us that he was fish ing in the Conestoga during the whole of Thursday, having arrived at the creek about 16 years, was picked up by Chief of about 6 o'clock in the morning. When Police Deichler, who found him asleep on he first came there he noticed something the street. He told the officer that he had in the water about 20 feet from the shore. This object remained in sight during the whole of the day and about half past three that his stepfather's name is E. D. Parks. o'clock in the afternoon several boys who were in the boat, made an examination and found that the body was that of a man, and it was afterwards identified as Charles

The Primary Election Fraud,

This morning the investigating commit tee appointed by the board of return judges of the late Republican primary election, J. W. F. Cooper, and the young gentlemen held another session in Grant hall, to hear bear with them the well wishes of many arguments in the alleged frauds. All the friends in the community. members of the committee were present except Mr. Smith, of Conoy. The minutes of last Monday were read and approved.

Percy Schock moved that cousel be limited in their speeches to thirty minutes but it was agreed to give them forty minutes, and that J. W. Johnson, esq., counsel for Mr. Eberly, the "counted out" candidate for district attorney, should have the last speeca.

Mr. Davis, the "counted in" candidate for district attorney made the opening ar- at Russell & Shulmyer's coal yard, on gument presenting his side of the question | Thursday afternoon, had a hearing before with much force, and proving, at least to Alderman McConomy this morning and the satisfaction of himself and friends, that were held in bail to answer at court. he was clearly and fairly nominated. T. B. Cochran, esq., counsel for A. W.

Snader the "counted in" candidate for Assembly, asked the committee whether it adhered to its former action in refusing to consider the Third ward Columbia contest, so long as the criminal case against Milton Mishler, judge of election, is pending in court.

The committee answered affirmatively, whereupon Mr. Cochran said he had no argument to make.

Mr. Johnson then took the floor and made a vigorous speech in behalf of A. J. Eberly, esq., the "counted out" nomince for district attorney. In the course of his arguments he managed to get before the committee as part of his speech, the affidavits which the committee refused to allow him to read at the former meeting of the committee. He also tried so get before the committee the affidavits relative to alleged frauds in the Third ward, Columbia, but the committee stopped him and would not hear him. His speech contained quite an array of figures from which he deducted gross frauds, not only in the two wards named above, but in several other election districts of the county.

At the close of Mr. Johnson's argument, the committee adjourned to reassemble at 2 o'clock this afternoon to consider the case presented to them and make up their report.

Argument Court.

The list for argument court, which commences on Monday, is now out, and in it, for argument, are thirty cases in common pleas, ten in quarter sessions and eleven in o phans' court.

Gen. Sutter's Career.

esa., of Marietta,

[Gen. John A. Sutter was a native of Switzerland. On arriving at manhood he became one of the Swiss Guard, the body guard of Charles X. of France. On the death of that monarch the guard was disbanded, and young Sutter returned to his native land. After remaining there for some time he emigrated to America, and was one of the pioneers who first traversed the vast plains and mountains dividing the Mississippi valley from the Pacific coast. Establishing himself at a favorable location. on the Sacramento river in California, he erected a mill, and other improvements, almost beyond the confines of civilization. In 1848 the first gold ever discovered in California was found on his ranche near the mill. The discovery led to the great emigration and succeeding years. The miners invaded Sutters' ranche, defied his authority and possessed themselves of wealth found upon his estate. Atter waging legal warfare with his foes he abandoned the ranche and fifteen years ago, where he continued to reside with an only daughter up to the time of his death. He was universally respected by all who knew him.

Hand Lacerated Yesterday morning an employee in No. 2 cotton mill, named Zell, had her left hand badly erated by getting it caught in the machinery. The skin and a part of the flesh was torn from the hand, and the bone of one of the fingers was fractured. Discharged on a Writ.
